ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

He Never Ceased to Be a Boy, Says

Graham Balfour, His Biographer.

In his introduction to "The Life of Robert

Louis Stevenson," Mr. Graham Balfour

rule holds, that all biography would be availed myself as far as possible of the writings in which he has referred to himself and his past experience. To bring together the passing illusions to himself scat-

obvious duty; at the same time any longer

some length with the first memories of its author, there seemed no occasion unduly to restrain this tendency in the case of the singer and interpreter of childhood, whose account of his early years is not only inter-

for its illustration of his poems and essays.

Again, in the representation of his adolescence, it must be remembered that he

WEEK WAS A BUSY ONE

TRADE WAS ACTIVE AND PRICES WERE STEADY TO STRONG.

Movement in Butter, Eggs, Poultry and Seasonable Produce-Cereals Are Active and Firm.

Nov. 9 closed a week in which trade in most lines was very satisfactory, the continued fine weather being conducive to general activity. The dry goods market during the week was more active than in either of the two preceding weeks, and on Monday there were some slight advances in prices, which probably led to some increase in trade. The week closed with a firm, active market. Boot and shoe men and hat and cap dealers had a very fair trade and the fall thus far has been very satisfactory as to trade in these lines. Wholesale grocers are enjoying a good business. Weather and seasons cut less figure with this line of trade than with any other, as people must have sugars, coffees and most of the staple goods handled. The confectioners speak of their business as being very good and increasing as the holidays draw nearer. Commission merchants had a big week's trade. Apples, oranges and bananas, potatoes, cabbage, onions, and in fact all fall lines of fruits and vegetables were fast movers, and with this prices carried a very firm, strong tone, especially on choice stock. But little inferior stock is now offered except in grapes. Flour is active and prices are decidedly firmer, some grades being a shade higher. Poultry, eggs, butter and cheese are moving well and at very satisfactory prices, eggs and poultry having an advancing tendency which is likely to strengthen within the next few days, Provisions are meeting with good demand in a local way, especially hams and side meats. There is nothing new to note in canned goods or dried fruits except that they are more sought for than last month, and that the demand will increase before the month goes out is the general opinion of those who keep in touch with these markets. Druggists are quite busy. Th only articles which fluctuated in prices during the week were quinine and linseed oil. No market of the last few months has varied to the extent that has linseed oil, and the Journal's quotations are closely watched. They are furnished by one of the largest houses dealing in the article in the city and are corrected daily. The local grain market for November was tame all the week, but an improvement is looked for the coming week, as farmers have their corn crop gathered and know where they stand and how much of last or this year's crop they can safely sell. Prices are strong and firm. The week closed with track bids, as reported by the secretary of the Board of Trade, ruling as

WAGON MARKET. On the wagon market sellers have had their own way the entire week. Offerings were comparatively light and prices paid for corn varied with the extent the seller could prudently draw on the purse of the buyer. In other words, the market ruled strong and most of the new and old corn offered sold at the highest quotations, the week closing with prices, as reported by the wagon weighmaster, ranging as fol-

UNION STOCKYARDS, INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 9.-Cattle-Receipts, 150; shipments, 100. This week's receipts of cattle have been fairly liberal, showing a gain of 400 over last week, 2,300 over the same week a year ago and 1,500 compared with the corresponding week two years ago. Thus far this year the receipts are nearly 64,000 larger than the same period last year. The very unsatisfactory conditions that have characterized the trade for several weeks were found in the market again this week, and, n fact, the trade was probably more unsatisfactory to salesmen than it has been at any time heretofore this year. > Hogs-Receipts, 7,000; shipments, 3,000. This week's receipts of hogs exhibit an increase of about 4,500 over last week, nearly 21,000 over the same week a year ago and over 9,000 compared with the corresponding week two years ago. Thus far this year the receipts are about 118,000 larger than the same period last year. For the week ending yesterday local packers bought a total of 40,282, against 37,441 the preceding week and 16,724 the same week a year ago. During the same period the a year ago. During the same period the ping and export steers, $5.10@6.85; dressed beef shipments were 5,525, against 4,962 the pre- and butchers steers, $3.40@4 and $6.25; steers, ceding week and 7,465 the corresponding week a year ago. The movement in prices of hogs this week has been up and down, but changes were no greater than expected considering the liberal marketing. There has been quite a scarcity of choice heavy grades, and with shiping orders principally for that class they have at all times shown | muttons, $343.60; lambs, $464.60; culls and the most strength. Light hogs were more or less discriminated against all week and prices have been very irregular. The record shows that on Monday there was a 50 10c advance, all of which was lost the next day, and there was a further decline of se on Wednesday. On Thursday prices were higher in the morning, but closed $4.75@4.96; roughs, $4.50@5. lower than the preceding day, and on Friday there was another reaction of 5c. At the extreme close of the week the top price was 5c lower than Monday and 71/2c lower than Thursday, and the average at the close of the week was probably at least 10c lower than the opening. A continued scarcity of choice heavy hogs will probably have a tendency to hold up the market for that class, but it is advisable for country shippers to allow a wider margin in buying mixed and light hogs. The receipts to-day were over 1,000 smaller than a week ago, but fully equal to the average for Saturday. The market opened with only a fair demand from shippers. There @4. was a reasonably good inquiry from packers and from the start a steady average in prices was indicated for the good weight hogs of good quality. For other grades, however, and especially the ordinary light hogs, there was a weaker tendency in the market from the beginning, and no doubt subsequent transactions were in not a few instances 5c lower than yesterday. With the shipping demand supplied there was as usual a weaker tendency in the market toward the close, and the last sales were the lowest of the day. The bulk of the supply sold between $5.50 and $5.80 and the extreme price was $6. About 1,000 hogs arrived after the market was practically over, and all that had been sold at the time

The marketing of sheep and lambs this week indicates an increase of about 200 over last week, 2,200 over the same week a year ago and 1,900 over the corresponding week two years ago. Thus far this year the receipts are nearly 57,000 larger than the same period last year. There has been very little fluctuation in prices this week. The supplies were only about large enough to meet the immediate requirements of the trade and with no material change in the markets elsewhere there was no excuse for any change here. Shippers as usual have been the principal buyers, but local butchers have taken about the usual proportion. Very few fancy lots were offered, consequently there were not many extreme prices paid. During the week lambs sold as high as $4.75, but $4.50 was practically the top, and sheep sold as high as $3.25, but $3 was usually the top. A small supply arrived for the market to-day, and all were sold promptly at firm prices compared and service to humanity; to become the

POSSIBLE CARLYLE REVIVAL.

Current Neglect of the Author Is Not Likely to Continue.

An Eyewitness.

Washington Post. A young lawyer whose recently acquired shingle hangs in G street, went down into Virginia within the month to attend a trial in his native county. It was essential to prove that bitter enmity had existed between defendant and plaintiff-if plaintiff is the proper term to apply to the gentleman who had had a generous handful of birdshot distributed into his person. A witness, who was quite blind, testified in etail as to a quarrel between the two. "Then Lew grabbed up a chair and broke it over Jim's head." he said.

"How do you know that?" asked the lawyer who was conducting the cross-examination. "I was an eyewitness to it," remarked the blind man. "An eyewitness?" repeated the lawyer, doubtingly. "Yes," said the blind man, "I was, A piece of the leg hit me in the right eye. I certainly was an eyewitness."
